Cinnaminson Police Officer Charged with Records Tampering

Burlington County Acting Prosecutor LaChia L. Bradshaw announced that a Cinnaminson Township police officer must forfeit his position and is permanently barred from holding public employment in New Jersey after an investigation revealed he was inappropriately utilizing law employment resources to gain personal information about a woman he met online.

Kevin Bohn, 41, of Cinnaminson, pled guilty earlier this week in Superior Court to Falsifying or Tampering with Records (Fourth Degree). The Hon. Christopher J. Garrenger, J.S.C., scheduled sentencing for August 19.

The investigation revealed that Bohn utilized a restricted law enforcement database to run queries on a woman he met through the Only Fans website. He also looked up information concerning her relatives.

The investigation further revealed that Bohn, who served more than 17 years with the Cinnaminson Township Police Department, tried to conceal his actions by generating incident numbers for the inquiries, then closing out the cases.

The investigation was conducted by detectives from the BCPO Special Investigations Unit. Bohn is being prosecuted by Assistant Prosecutor Brian Faulk, the unit's supervisor.

All persons are considered innocent unless and until proven guilty in a court of law.
